

Stevan Savich

Stevan Savich completed 37 years as a commissioned trust examiner for the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago. During that time, he was the examiner-in-charge of trust department, trust company, investment advisor, government securities dealer, municipal securities dealer, and transfer agent examinations. He was designated as a technical expert in both securities lending and global custody activities. Steve also was the fiduciary examiner liaison for The Northern Trust Company of Chicago, one of the largest trust departments in the U.S. In the year 2000, he was named the recipient of the President's Award for Excellence, the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago's highest honor.

Recently retired, he is now a contractor with the State of Indiana and responsible for the examination of all trust departments and trust companies in the state.

Steve has earned a CFIRS designation from the Cannon Trust School and has graduated from the National Trust School. He holds a Bachelor of Arts in Economics along with an Associate of Science degree in Paralegal Studies, both from the University of Indianapolis.
