

FEDERAL RESERVE BANK of ST. LOUIS
CENTRAL TO AMERICA'S ECONOMY®

Jamie Bazarow
Senior Examiner, CFE

Jamie Bazarow is a Supervisory Examiner at the Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis, overseeing the fiduciary activities supervision function. Bazarow also serves as the Chair of the Asset/Wealth Management Risk Outlook Vetting Group, focused on System-wide identification of current and emerging risk impacting wealth management business lines. Bazarow has 22 years of experience in banking supervision, specializing in fiduciary activities for large, regional, and community banks and commercial and fraud examinations for regional and community banks. She has also served as lead course developer for the Federal Reserve System's examiner commissioning program's fiduciary examination course. Earlier, she served as an examiner for the Arkansas State Bank Department specializing in commercial, trust, and fair lending/consumer affairs examinations.

Bazarow received her Bachelor of Arts from Ouachita Baptist University, majoring in Finance while playing basketball. She is also a graduate of the American Bankers Association Trust School, receiving a diploma with Honors.