

Amy Rhodes, CFIRS

CHIEF COMPLIANCE OFFICER

Amy serves as chief compliance officer with Argent's Fiduciary Consulting Services division. In this role, she is responsible for all aspects of compliance for Argent Trust Company.

Amy has over 30 years of trust industry related experience. Much of her career includes an extensive background with trust systems and related support. Prior to joining Argent, she served as vice president and fiduciary compliance specialist with Frost Bank in San Antonio, where she had worked since beginning her career in 1989.

Amy is a Certified Fiduciary and Investment Risk Specialist and Certified IRA Specialist I. She attended Texas A&M University, where she studied environmental design.