

Richard Corcoran

Richard “Dick” Corcoran is Executive Vice President of Wealth Management and is head of the Trust Department for The First National Bank in Sioux Falls. Dick is a graduate of Hamline University School of Law in St. Paul, MN and prior to joining The First National Bank in 1991 was a partner in the law firm of Woods Fuller Shultz and Smith of Sioux Falls. In addition to his other civic involvement, Dick is a charter member of The South Dakota Governor’s Task Force on Trust Administration Review and Reform, whose responsibilities include the monitoring and reviewing the trust administration statutes of the state and to make recommendations for changing South Dakota’s trust administration statutes in the effort to provide for the most efficient and effective administration of trusts and to continue the state’s position as one of the most desirable jurisdictions in which to locate trusts and trust companies. As a member of the Governor’s Task Force Dick has been responsible for authoring several statutes related to trusts and trust administration.
