

Henry Ristuccia

Partner

Deloitte & Touche LLP

New York, New York

+1.212.436.4244

hristuccia@deloitte.com

Henry is a partner with Deloitte & Touche LLP and Global leader of Deloitte's Governance, Risk and Compliance practice. He focuses on helping organizations on their journey to become a Risk Intelligent Enterprise,[™] where risk considerations are incorporated into strategic decisions. During his more than twenty-five year career with Deloitte, Henry has provided services to organizations in support of their efforts to assess and implement internal control and risk management systems related to operations, information technology, and financial management. Focusing predominantly on large financial institutions he has also served clients varying in size and industries.

Henry is a graduate from St. John's University. He is a certified public accountant licensed in New York. In addition, he is certified as an information systems auditor, management consultant, and a risk and information systems control professional.